

JOB POSTING

Fundraisers, Call Centre

Strategic Communications Inc – Toronto/Vancouver

Job Description

Helping change the world, one call at a time.

Are you passionate about progressive, not-for-profit and political organizations?

Are you a strong communicator?

Do you want to help organizations make the world a better place?

Strategic Communications Inc. is an award winning consulting firm that creates and implements innovative and integrated campaign and fundraising strategies for non-profits, advocacy groups, unions and political organizations. We help our clients become more effective in their work and as a result create a positive impact in our local and global communities. We have a strong commitment to social, ethical and environmental responsibility which is embedded in our culture and reflected in our work.

Stratcom has clients from a wide range of non-profit sectors, including health, environmental, international aid and development, social justice, advocacy, and arts organizations.

We are currently hiring individuals for positions in our call centres in Toronto and Vancouver.

If you feel you are a strong communicator who can effectively convey a passion for progressive organizations over the phone, we will reward you with a flexible schedule, competitive hourly wage plus bonuses and health benefits, and a progressive workplace.

Those with previous call centre experience who have an interest in the not-for-profit sector, and have the ability to learn quickly in a changing environment are asked to send a resume and cover letter to jobs @ stratcom.ca

Qualifications and assets:

- Strong conversational ability
- Have basic computer knowledge.
- Available to work primarily evenings and weekends.
